Product Description

Replengen Volume lido 1,1 ml Hyaluronic acid Dermal Filler

Product Description :

Replengen is a dermal HA-based filler for correction of medium and severe wrinkles. Replengen Deep is used for injection into deep subcutaneous layers. Special technologies are used in the production of Replengen Deep: "Glenzen's GI (Grinding Irregular)" ensures a homogeneous gel structure, while HAMC (Hyaluronic Acid Moisture Correction) technology enables obtaining highly cross-linked HA. The dermal filler has lower rates of decomposition when injected in the epidermis thus increasing the effect duration.

Replengen Volume lido 1.1ml

Over time, the skin loses its elasticity, which is visible, among others, in the form of wrinkles of various depths. In order to fill deep wrinkles and prevent new ones, it is worth reaching for Replengen Volume filler.

What is Replengen Volume lido ?

Replengen Volume is an innovative Korean filler based on cross-linked hyaluronic acid. Manufactured by Reanzen Co., Ltd., it is the third in the Replagen series of fillers. It is intended for injection into the middle and deep areas of the dermis. It is produced using two specially developed technologies:

Glenzen's GI (Grinding Irregular) is responsible for the homogeneous, appropriately absorbable gel structure, HAMC (Hyaluronic Acid Moisture Correction) technology is responsible for obtaining highly cross-linked HA.

Thanks to this, the filler decomposes more slowly after injection, which extends the duration of action and prolongs the effect of the treatment.

Application

Thanks to the presence of lido, treatments with Replengen Volume are painless. The use of the product is recommended for the loss of facial skin volume, for filling deep wrinkles, sunken cheeks and drooping skin. It is also great for filling and correcting the lip contour. As a result, the skin not only gains a younger appearance, but also becomes more moisturized, and its condition improves significantly.

The effects of using Replengen Volume improvement of the face contour,

natural rejuvenation effect,

reduction of deep wrinkles,

delays the formation of new wrinkles and furrows,

long-lasting effect of the treatment.
