Radiese lidocain 1x1.5 ml can be used to create specific contours on the chin and cheeks. Moderate to deeper wrinkles can be optimally treated with this product. Radiese Lidocain 1x1.5 ml provides immediate volume build-up thanks to its watery gel consistency, which reduces wrinkles without delay or, ideally, makes them disappear completely. Besides immediate wrinkle correction, Radisse 1x1.5 ml stimulates the body's own collagen synthesis. This effect is provided by the active ingredient calcium hydroxyapatite. The skin tissue produces more of its own collagens and thus ensures even firmer skin. The shapes of the treated facial areas are not only modelled and filled up with this product, but also benefit from lasting positive effects on the skin's appearance. This product is gradually broken down completely by the skin tissue. Thanks to the particularly long-lasting formulation, the results of this product remain visible for up to 18 months. As the ingredients of this product are naturally present in the body, allergic reactions or rejections are extremely rare.

Ideal for collagen, contour and collagen build-up in the following areas:

- Cheeks
- Zygomatic bone
- corner of the mouth
- Lower jaw

  Effect duration:
  Due to the unique composition of Radiess, this filler lasts particularly long. The immediately visible results of the treatment last up to 15 months, and in some cases up to 18 months. This is therefore dependent on age, skin type, sporting activity and the technique used.
