Product Description

Product Description

ELASTY

HA 24mg/mL

Elasty is a dermal filler contains hyaluronic acid (HA) at a concentration of 24mg/ml, with the addition of Lido at a concentration of 0.3% Elasty is known for its excellent cohesion and high elastic modulus

ELASTY Plus with Lido hyaluronic acid dermal fillers are top-of-the-line thanks to their patented Preserved Natural Entanglement Technology (PNET), providing enhanced high elastic modulus and excellent cohesion. These fillers boast high elasticity, high cohesion, and high convenience.

With minimal modification, this dermal filler is highly pure and preferred by consumers. Its high viscosity guarantees maximum satisfaction, making it a perfect choice for quality-focused individuals. High viscosity ensures a proper "fill," achieving optimal results for patients. Additionally, the inclusion of lido minimizes discomfort during the procedure.

Elasty F Plus: Elasty F Plus is a medium viscosity dermal filler that effectively fills wrinkles and folds in the facial skin, acting on the deep dermal layers. Its hyaluronic acid is cross-linked using 3D technology, providing high volumetric properties and resistance to biodegradation.

Application Area:

- Nasolabial folds;
- Wrinkles on the forehead, cheeks;
- Lowered corners of the mouth, puppet wrinkles;
- Insufficient volume, asymmetry, uneven lip contour.
- It is brought into the deep dermal layers.
- Lip contouring

Elasty D Plus: Elasty D Plus is a top-quality injectable hyaluronic acid-based filler gel that boasts PNET (Preserved Natural Entanglement Technology), providing high elasticity, firmness, and cohesion. It is highly effective in filling wrinkles and deep skin folds in the facial area.

Application Area:

- Correction of the deep wrinkles
- Forehead smoothing
- Perioral area
- Nose and cheeks correction
- Chin augmentation

Elasty G Plus: Elasty G Plus is the densest dermal filler in this product line, containing large particles that effectively fill the volume of lost skin tissues in different facial areas. The technology used in its manufacture involves cross-linking of hyaluronic acid 3D.

ELASTY hyaluronic acid dermal fillers are top of the line in its class with its patented PNET (Preserved Natural Entanglement Technology) which contributes to enhanced high elastic modulus and excellent cohesion. ELASTY tauts high elasticity, high cohesion, and high convenience.

With minimal modification, this dermal filler exudes utmost purity when used by any consumer. It makes this filler highly preferred by all consumers. Its high viscosity guarantees maximum satisfaction by any consumer and patient. High viscosity makes for a perfect dermal filler when quality comes into mind. It is because high viscosity guarantees a proper "fill."

ELASTY D is a dermal filler with medium viscosity. It efficiently fills in wrinkles and folds on the skin and works well on the deep dermal layers. It has been manufactured by cross-linking 3D technology and it's high volumetric properties enable resistance to biodegradation.
