Product Description

Feel the difference with Elasty Fillers. It effectively treats fine lines to deep wrinkles found all over the face.
Elasty Dermal Fillers are developed with a unique cross-linking technology called PNET or Preserved Natural Entanglement Technology which produces a highly viscous gel that can guarantee outstanding results. Elasty is known for its excellent cohesion and high elastic modulus, making it easy and stable to administer, producing a balanced and even appearance. Elasty has a variety of products ranging from medical devices and threads to hyaluronic acid-filled dermal fillers. Dongbang Medical, one of South Korea's renowned biotech companies, developed these with highly advanced technology and international standardized methods.
Elasty products include dermal fillers infused with cross-linked and purified hyaluronic acid. It displays high elasticity and cohesion, resulting in a very convenient and easy gel administration during the treatment. Elasty Fine is specially designed for fine lines and shallow wrinkles across the forehead, near the corner of the eyes, and along the neck. It has the least cohesion among Elasty's dermal fillers but has a high volumizing effect that can offer a lifting effect temporarily.

Elasty Dermal Fillers are known for their authenticity and quality as it has received European certification (CE certified) and KFDA approval for their safety and efficacy. It presents with low BDDE residual, thus, increasing its crosslinking effectiveness and minimizing bacterial contamination. Elasty Fillers' numerous internationally approved certificates account for the product's systematic double-purification process.
