About:

Juvederm is a cosmetic treatment referred to as a filler. It's used to restore facial contours and improve signs of aging.

It's an injectable dermal filler with a base of hyaluronic acid.

It's a treatment that focuses on the face, specifically the cheeks, lips, and around the mouth.

The procedure to inject the product takes 15 to 60 minutes.

It's one of the most common nonsurgical cosmetic procedures done in the U.S

Efficacy:

Results are often noticeable immediately after a procedure.

Results can last one to two years.

what is juvederm

Juvederm is a hyaluronic acid-based dermal filler. There are several products in the Juvederm family. They all are used to help people address the facial signs of aging. Each product in the Juvederm line features different bonding and concentrations of hyaluronic acid. The different products are each tailored to target specific problems when injected into different areas and depths. Juvederm fillers have a smooth, gel-like consistency.

Juvederm types:

Juvederm Voluma XC adds volume beneath your skin's surface to increase the size of your cheeks.

Juvederm XC and Juvederm Vollure XC address the loss of skin elasticity and fill out wrinkles and lines around the mouth and nose — known as smile lines.

Juvederm Ultra XC and Juvederm Volbella XC work as nonsurgical lip enhancement treatments.

preparing for juvederm

Before a Juvederm treatment, speak with a medical professional about your cosmetic goals and expectations. Juvederm procedures are minimally invasive so they're frequently done on the same day as the consultation. The procedure is minimally invasive and doesn't need much preparation.

Simple instructions to follow before your consultation and treatment generally involve avoiding medication like aspirin, ibuprofen, and St. John's wort. And you'll want to avoid alcohol in the weeks leading up to treatment. Smoking is also discouraged before treatment. Avoiding these things can help prevent bruising. Also let your doctor know of any allergies or sensitivities.

how does juvederm work

Juvederm works by adding volume to the facial tissue through its active ingredient, hyaluronic acid. Hyaluronic acid is a natural substance found in the human body. It stimulates the production of the connective tissue that plumps the skin (collagen). As you get older, the production of hyaluronic acid and collagen decreases. This increases the appearance of sagging and wrinkling of the facial skin.

During the procedure, your doctor, physician assistant, or nurse typically uses a pen to mark the areas to be treated. Your doctor will then inject Juvederm into the target area. They will also lightly massage the area to ensure an even distribution and reduce the chance of swelling. The entire procedure usually takes between 15 and 60 minutes, depending on the area treated. Juvederm injections contain a small amount of pain-reducing. This will help minimize any pain or discomfort you feel during treatment and make it go away quickly.
