Product Description

Kabelline is a Korean-made contouring serum used for dissolving fat deposits in specific areas of the face and body, such as the double chin, arms, and abdomen. It contains deoxycholic acid, which breaks down fat cells, and is administered through injections by a licensed medical professional.

What it is

It is often compared to Kybella and is also marketed as a non-invasive alternative to liposuction.

A body and face contouring serum.

It contains 8% deoxycholic acid, a naturally occurring substance that breaks down fat cells.

How it works

Deoxycholic acid is injected into the fat layer, where it emulsifies and breaks down fat cells.

The body then naturally removes the destroyed fat cells.

The process also includes L-Carnitine, which helps with accelerated fat metabolism and water absorption.
