PRODUCT COMPOSITION

Rejuran Classic contains 2mL of Polynucleotide (PN).

PN are DNA fragments extracted from wild salmon specifically from the Korean Chum Salmon O.Keta, which has the closest DNA base composition to the human body, thus making it even more biocompatible to the body. This is made possible with the company's patented technology called the DOT™ (DNA Optimizing Technology). Polynucleotides are a more concentrated form of PDRN (Polydeoxyribonucleotide) where they work swiftly to produce effects but also slowly degrade while maintaining its uniform structure in the skin tissue thereby lasting longer.

HOW IT WORKS

Rejuran works systematically from revitalizing the skin, restoring skin elasticity to improving skin moisture and hydration balance. Through clinical studies, Rejuran shows superior results where it increases the proliferation of fibroblast cells, promoting long-term elastin and collagen growth in the skin. Thus, by activating the skin's own regenerative ability to restore its own collagen structure, it lifts the skin and maintains its firmness and elasticity. Unlike other hyaluronic acid skin boosters, Rejuran consists of bio-active DNA molecules that stimulate regeneration and repair damaged skin while reducing unwanted inflammation. Then, Rejuran increases epidermal and dermal skin thickness, forming a strong defense against multiple factors that can cause premature skin aging.
